Attachment to Advisory Action

Response to Amendment

This office action is in response to request for reconsideration and amendments after-final filed on June 22, 2006. Original application contained Claims 1-21. Applicant previously amended Claims 1-5, 7, 11-16, 18, and cancelled Claims 6, and 17. Applicant currently amended Claim 18 to correct typographical error. The amendment filed have been entered and made of record. Therefore, presently pending claims are 1-5, 7-16, and 18-21.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed June 22, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive because of the following reasons:

Applicants argued that there is no teaching, suggestion nor motivation to combine Abbott et al. (U. S. Patent 6,671,808), with Burger (U. S. Pub. 2005/0060586 A1)] because there is no need for authentication of the personnel key.

This is not found persuasive. The system of Abbott teaches and describes a key to interface with a wide variety of computers and computer peripherals. This key provides integrated password and digital certificate management, software security, and personal identification capability in a single compact package. The security information includes a unique identification, embedded into the device, to identify the device (col.3 line 64 to col.4 line 7, col.4 line 50 to line 62, col.5 line 12 to line 15, col.5 line 55 to col.6 line 5, and col.9 line 50 to line 65). Although the system disclosed by Abbot discloses secure identification of individuals (users) when using the unique USB enabled device but Abbot does not specifically discuss in detail unique ID embedded inside of the device. However, Burger, discloses computing environment that describe methods of portable electronic authorization system (Fig.1-2) by engaging transactions involving financial and/or non-financial media and devices, where apparatus has an authenticator that authenticates an identity of a user [Fig.1-2, and paragraph 0019 – 0020]. Therefore, there is need in thee system of Abbott for the authentication of the (personnel) key when tracking the device in an external network.

Art Unit: 2131

In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5

USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988)and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, because Burger's system of portable electronic authorization with plurality of unique devices provides plurality of services after authenticating the device and user by using embedded ID enhances the trustworthiness of the user of portable device (such as, personnel key) when tracking the device in a external network (co.7 line 9 to line 15).

Applicants clearly have failed to explicitly identify specific claim limitations, which would define a patentable distinction over prior arts. The examiner is not trying to teach the invention but is merely trying to interpret the claim language in its broadest and reasonable meaning. The examiner will not interpret to read narrowly the claim language to read exactly from the specification, but will interpret the claim language in the broadest reasonable interpretation in view of the specification. Therefore, the examiner asserts that the system of cited prior arts does teach or suggest the subject matter broadly recited in independent Claims and in subsequent dependent Claims. Accordingly, rejections for claims 1-5, 7-16, and 18-21 are respectfully maintained.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Syed Zia whose telephone number is 571-272-3798. The examiner can normally be reached on 9:00 to 5:00.
